Productivity platforms, CRM, and integrated VoIP phone systems represent a significant investment for any company. The number one reason why those investments often fail is a lack of adoption.

With visibility into usage from Prodoscore, you can help drive adoption. Prodoscore creates accountability and presents a single performance metric that makes it easy to monitor utilization of your entire productivity technology stack.

- Measure and improve your daily workflows
- Improve ROI with greater adoption of application investments like G Suite or Office 365
- Improve training, management, and employee engagement
- Support HR performance requirements by monitoring daily efforts of employees
- Receive alerts for at-risk employees

Prodoscore takes the guesswork out of managing remote or in-office teams so leaders are better informed and better prepared.
